You Can Learn!

The tricks described in this Catalog can be easily mastered by anybody old enough to read the instructions which accompany each effect.

No course of instruction or long hours of tedious practice are necessary. Most of the Tricks we sell are not dependent upon skill or dexterity, but are self-contained and self-working.

YOU can become an entertainer—be the center of attraction wherever you go!

MAGIC is so unusual, so mystifying to the ordinary person, that whenever one starts to do a clever trick, the crowd quickly gathers around.

TODAY is the time to make your selections.

Magic is an art that sometimes instructs, often amuses and always entertains".—WILSON

Magic is the very oldest form of entertainment known to man. Throughout the ages, it has stood the test of time. No other variety of entertainment gives so much pleasure and amusement to both young and old. There is a fascination about Magic that seems to lure all alike. Its appeal is universal—it interests all classes, irrespective of age, learning or nationality. Always man has delved into the Unknown, seeking to penetrate the veil that hides Knowledge from his eyes.

The marvels of the Magician possess an unfailing fascination to all beholders. Magic is an Art in itself; it employs and makes use of all known sciences. It is educating, instructive and entertaining. Magic confuses, startles, amazes, mystifies, surprises, accomplishes the impossible, turns the world of facts upside down, and creates an amazing Wonderland of Enchantment and Illusion. It furnishes pleasure that never grows stale and amusement and entertainment that can not be excelled. Verily, Magic has no rival in its power to divert, to charm and enthrall the mind with its ever-varying array of wonders.

Yet, Magic is wonderful and mystifying, only because we do not understand. The principles of Magic are simple and not all mystifying effects require long hours of practice. Many mystifying effects may be learned within a few minutes by anybody possessing ordinary intelligence. With the sole purpose of arousing interest and bringing before you the possibilities of Magic as an entertaining form of amusement, the following pages of Magic and Mystery are dedicated to you.

HELPFUL HINTS to BEGINNERS

NEVER TELL beforehand what the effect of your trick will be. If you do, the audience will know what to expect and will be on the lookout to catch the secret.

NEVER REPEAT a trick to the same audience. The second time they will know what is coming and are prepared to watch more closely. This is a general rule that is well to follow. However, on certain occasions a trick may be repeated. For instance, if you have TWO distinct methods for producing the same effect. It is always a good idea to know more than one way to perform a trick if possible. There are some effects, where sleight-of-hand is not involved, that you may safely present as many times as you like without fear of detection. These consist mainly of mental demonstrations.

PRACTICE DILIGENTLY. Any trick requiring sleight-of-hand in performing should be practiced until you are sure of every move. Stand in front of a large mirror. Observe all your actions. Try to make them as natural as possible and above all avoid hasty, unnatural jerky movements. Most of the tricks listed in this Catalog require very little practice, but it is well to practice each carefully before presenting, so you will know exactly what you are going to do and insure a smooth performance.

LEARN TO TALK. The talk that accompanies a trick is called "Patter." In many tricks the "patter" is the main part. It helps hold the attention of the audience and directs their minds away from the solution of your trick. Your talk should be in line with the kind of trick you perform. Say you are doing a mind-reading effect. Then, you could very well talk about an interesting experiment in Telepathy, etc. Nearly every Stage Magician has his "patter" arranged for every effect he presents and uses it in the same way at every performance.

TOO QUICK. The trouble most beginners must learn to overcome is that of being too hasty. There is an old saying: "The hand is quicker than the eye," leaving the impression that it is the quickness of the hand that does the trick. It is true there are a few effects where quickness is essential, but in most cases the opposite is true. If you form the habit of hurrying, the audience cannot keep up with you and the full effect is lost.

THE WAND is an accessory every beginner should have. It adds an air of mystery to your performance. Not only that, but it is a great aid to you in many ways that we could not publicly disclose on this page. You will find several kinds of wands catalogued. With each wand we send an instruction sheet suggesting various uses.

BOOKS ON MAGIC are numerous and everyone interested should have at least a few of the best. They not only explain how the more common effects are performed but many pieces of apparatus listed in the Catalogs are illustrated and explained, enabling you to decide to better advantage what to buy. Several of the more popular books will be found listed at the bottom of various pages throughout this Catalog.

NOTHING SUPERNATURAL. No trick is accomplished by supernatural means. Every effect is the result of normal, natural causes and in most instances the secret is very simple. You see a trick and to you the effect is marvelous, because you do not know the secret. When the secret is explained, the simplicity becomes apparent and it is no longer marvelous to you. It is well to remember this when you buy a trick. The tricks listed in the Catalog are described from the point of view of the spectator. To the audience, the tricks appear just as described in the Catalog. Remember, it will mystify your audience, because they do not possess the secret. But, because the secret seems simple to you, once revealed, do not belittle it—it still holds mystery and charm for your audience. If you value your reputation as a "Wizard," do not under any circumstances, expose the working methods of your tricks.

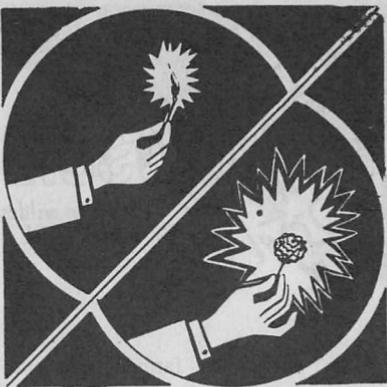

LACK OF CONFIDENCE is a common fault with the beginner. This is a form of fright caused chiefly by fear that the audience will "catch" the method employed in performing the trick. Bear in mind that your audience is completely ignorant of what you intend to do, they have not peered behind the scenes and therefore have no way of knowing what is being done. A mistake should not be taken too seriously as in most cases the audience is not even aware that one has been made.

QUALITY should always be considered in buying Magical Apparatus. The best is always the cheapest in the end. While we list several items in various grades, we always advise paying a little more and getting the best. Many items, which we consider impractical, or of poor quality, we have completely eliminated from the Catalog.

Gibson's NICKEL AND DIMES

A masterpiece of mechanical ingenuity. Four nickels are stacked on the table and covered with a little brass cover that fits over the stack. The cover is immediately lifted, revealing 4 dimes in place of the 4 nickels. The apparatus can then be thoroughly examined by the spectator without fear of detection. Perfectly made, entirely self working.....$1.25

LIT MATCH TO FLOWER (Ireland)

A dandy impromptu trick for the pocket, or is very useful in a cigarette act on the stage. Performer removes from his pocket an ordinary match, strikes it, and lights a cigarette. He now blows out the light, and instantly the match changes to a flower, which he places in his lapel.

Nicely made, easy to work, a trick that you can and will use.

$2.50

BATHING BEAUTY (Pocket Size)

Karell Fox,

BATHING BEAUTY Pocket Size

A card is shown with a picture of a bathing beauty at the beach, complete with bathing suit, coat and umbrella. A wipe of the hand, and the umbrella disappears. Next the coat disappears, then the suit! When the card is uncovered, the TIDE HAS COME IN, with the bathing beauty in water up to her chin. Easy to work, in three colors. Price only.....

75¢

KNIFE THRU COAT

Yessir, you borrow a coat and push the blade of this knife right through the fabric—then the coat is returned to the worried owner unharmed!

As this knife to all appearance is an ordinary pocket knife, this is unbeatable as an impromptu pocket effect and will never cease to create amazement whenever presented. Knife supplied is highest quality, with complete routined instructions for best presentation.

Price $3.50

We don't care what you say..

DOTS IMPOSSIBLE

*It's the wildest
"visual" trick
in magic!*

Six cards are fanned out and the spectator touches the back on one. That one he touches is placed face down upon the table. The faces of the cards are now shown. On the face of each is a large colored dot and are the same color. Spectator's card is then turned over and on its face is a large dot of another color. Easy to learn in a few minutes. Cards are not forced. You'll like this one. Only $1.50

SPONGE BALLS

The vanishing and reappearing of sponge balls, first from performer's hand, then to spectators — now there is one ball, then there are four — is close-up magic at its best. These perfectly round machine made balls are the finest ever made. Available in two size, in Red or Yellow, complete with easy-to-learn routine.

Set of 4 Balls, 1½" size $1.50

2" size $2.50

CRYSTAL SILK TUBE

A smart looking clear plastic tube about 9 inches in length is shown to be empty. Performer then picks up three colorful silks and one at a time pushes them into one end of the tube.

He then blows them out, but instead of coming out singly, they all pop out into the air knotted together! Only three silks used, suitable for stage or parlor.

Complete with silks, only $4.00

KING TUT

Made of colorful plastic, King Tut is a cute little pocket trick you can do at a moment's notice. Hand King Tut to a spectator and ask him to place the King in the casket. This the King refuses to do, and jumps right out every time.

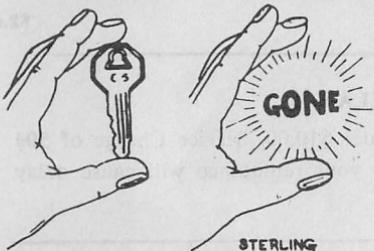

Performer then takes the casket, seemingly "hypnotizes" the King, and he goes right to sleep. More fun than a barrel of monkeys.

Price $1.00

PRESTO COIN VANISH

A splendid trick that looks like sleight of hand but is easy to do. Performer places a half dollar size coin on his leg, and covers it with a fold of the trousers. When the fold is opened, presto, the coin has vanished! Performer then reproduces the coin from his pocket and offers it for examination

75¢

Sterling's
VANISHING KEY

A recent popular pocket trick with all who see it. Thousands have been sold. Performer may remove the key from keyring, put it in spectator's hand, but as the hand is closed the key vanishes. Toss it into the air and it vanishes. Hands may be shown empty, yet the key suddenly appears.

With very little patience anyone can do this amazing little trick, and although it looks as if the performer possesses unusual dexterity with his hands, it is unbelievably easy to perform.

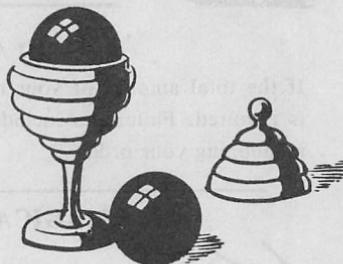

Price, with key and 4 routines.....50¢

MAGICAL COIN, same as above... $1.00

MULTIPLYING RABBITS*A Fun Making Pocket Trick

You will agree that this is the cutest pocket trick ever devised, especially with the ladies. It is by far the fastest selling pocket effect we have ever handled in our store.

Place Papa Rabbit in your hand, Mamma Rabbit in spectator's hand. A few magic words and that ever-loving couple are both in his hand. But wait, now comes the pay-off! You place both Mamma and Papa in the spectator's hand again. When he opens it there are Mamma, Papa and FOUR BABY BUNNIES. Girls shriek, men are mystified. Price.....$1.00

BALL VASE

Because of the marvelous effect and the ease of performance, the Ball Vase is one of the most popular effects ever devised. The ball is taken from the case and concealed in the pocket, and cover replaced on the empty vase. At command the ball reappears in the vase where it is seen when the top is removed. Again the vase is closed and the ball mysteriously appears in the pocket, from whence it is removed and replaced in the empty vase.$1.00

TRICKY PADDLES

Consists of two handsome plastic paddles. One of the paddles is seen to have a picture of a magician's hat on BOTH sides. By passing your empty hand over the paddle, a RABBIT magically appears in the hat . . . and the rabbit can be shown on BOTH sides of the paddle. In the same manner, a CIRCLE changes into a SQUARE. Every magician should have a set of TRICKY Paddles. Complete with instructions.....

50¢

CHINESE BOTTLE

From the Orient this most mysterious "master miracle." A unique vase — freely examined. A short length of rope is placed into the neck of the vase. The rope is then held up high into the air — but the vase hangs and is actually suspended in the air. Of course — they can examine everything. A most impressive weird ritual of Mysticism.

$1.00

CRAZY SPOTS

Two hinged panels are shown with a different color on each side. Close panels and both spots change colors. Rub one and it changes color again. Panels may then be passed out for inspection. A clever pocket trick.

$2.00

TO AVOID DELAY . . .

If the total amount of your order is under $10.00, Service Charge of 50¢ is required. Failure to include this with your remittance will cause delay in shipping your order.

MAGICAL BLOCK AND COIN

This is a self-working little trick that will instantly work without any skill!. You simply place a penny on the spectator's hand, show the little block on both sides, place block on top of the penny. Spectator is amazed when the block is lifted to see that the penny has changed to a dime! Block and dime are then tossed to spectator for thorough examination.

$1.00

OUT TO LUNCH

(Clare Cummings & Bob Ellis)

Magician shows a card with a picture of a boy climbing a rope. The spectator initials the card front and back. WHILE SPECTATOR HOLDS THE CARD, THE BOY VANISHES FROM THE ROPE, leaving a sign in his place that reads: "Out to Lunch." Spectator may keep the card for a souvenir. No chemicals. The initials are still on both sides of card. You can work this trick with your own business card and then spectator will keep your card with your name and address. Great publicity trick.

$1.00

Royal's DEVIL'S COIN BOX

A marked coin is dropped into the little slot on top of the box, the box placed on the back of the hand, tapped with the finger, and the coin penetrates the hand and drops out. Coin is found to be the same one as marked, and box may then be examined. Price

$1.00

A most practical combination of good coin effects. They require no difficult practice or sleight of hand. Easily learned by anyone within a few minutes. No preparation of any kind necessary as tricks may all be done with borrowed coins. Complete instructions for six effects.

5-in-1 WAND

A beautiful 14-inch plastic wand with white tips and black center. Can be used as a regular wand, but it's also full of tricks. For instance, while holding wand, it suddenly starts rising in your hand. It can be made to jump out of your hand, or to produce a silk.

$2.00

EGG VASE

This excellent trick, patterned after the smaller version of the Ball Vase, is fine to use with the Egg Bag, or other routines involving the vanishing and reappearance of an egg.

A nicely colored plastic vase is shown which contains an egg; the egg is removed, placed in your pocket or elsewhere, the cover placed back on. When the cover is removed, the egg is back in the vase!

Now, the cover is placed back on the base, again removed, and the egg has again vanished.

Vase stands about 4" high, which makes it visible from a distance, yet the vase is useful for close parlor work.

$1.75

SIMPLEX MISER'S DREAM

This is an easy method for doing the highly popular Miser's Dream effect, with a borrowed drinking glass. Both hands can be shown absolutely empty at the start and finish of the trick, yet almost immediately you can start producing real half dollars "out of the air." Each coin is visibly thrown into the glass . . . the audience SEES IT and HEARS it! Yet you continue to "catch" other coins from your ear, your nose, from a spectator's mouth, etc.

The secret gimmicks supplied for this trick are different from those furnished for our "Coins From the Air" trick. A clearly written routine included with the gimmicks.

$1.50

CHICK-PAN

An egg is broken into an empty pan, then milk, sugar, salt, etc., are added. A match is thrown into the mixture, a flame shoots up and cover is placed over pan. When the cover is removed, in place of the mixture, 2 baby chicks or whatever you load the pan with, will appear. Excellent for "Baking a Cake" effect.

Made of highly polished metal. Pan is 4" in diameter. Complete with several routines. Each $10.00

DOVE PAN — For larger productions — same effect as above but 7 inches in diameter. Each $15.00

SILK DYEING TUBE

An easy, almost mechanical method of doing this fine silk effect. You simply show a sheet of paper about 10 inches square on both sides, then roll it into a tube. Into one end of the tube push a small Red silk, 8" square. Now, blow into the tube and out pops a Green silk! Tube is then opened and shown empty.

Comes complete with paper tube, necessary silks, and illustrated instructions, only

$2.00

TIP COLOR

A plastic box 5" x 2" is opened. Inside are four different colored plastic discs in pockets. The spectator removes the discs and replaces them in any order he wishes. The box is closed and sealed with tape. The performer turns around and immediately names the order in which the discs have been placed. Box may be examined before and after the trick.

Price $5.00

COIN - THRU

This apparent miracle is the most amazing close-up trick that has been developed in recent years, yet is so simple in working that the rank amateur can present it just as easily and as effectively as the expert professional.

An ordinary glass tumbler is shown which is covered with a sheet of rubber, fastened securely to the glass with a rubber band. On the sheet of rubber rests a coin, which may be a quarter, nickel, dime or a penny.

Now, without any tricky moves, performer simply takes one finger and lays it on top of the coin, then pushes it right through the rubber sheet, and it drops into the empty tumbler with a loud plink. The entire outfit is then handed to the spectator who removes the rubber band and the coin, and examines everything.

Trick comes complete with instructions and 3 rubber sheets, which may be used again and again. Any ordinary glass tumbler is used.

Price, only	$1.00
Extra rubber sheets, 3 for50

GLORPY

Another spectacular close-up effect that we recommend highly. Performer displays a beautifully patterned 24-inch sheer silk, which can be held up to the light to show no threads or any connections whatever. The silk is then spread out on a flat surface, and the four corners folded over to the center so you have a smaller square or "Ghost Trap" in front of you.

Suddenly, the center begins to rise slowly and then with a lot of action—it comes to life! Performer's hands are in full view and can be watched closely—there is nothing to see, except Old Glorpy having his day—he kicks about and actually leaps up a full 5 inches—and then, just as everyone is ready to grab him, the sheer silk is shaken out, revealing absolutely nothing there except the silk. Glorpy has gone away just as mysteriously as he appeared.

This is the perfect impromptu effect for use at a party as the silk may be worn in the breast pocket, then removed and "gerkulated." For that reason, Glorpy has been one of our most spectacular over-the-counter sellers. Completely self-contained, always ready to work.

Price, only	4.50

BLACK HAND GAG

The kind of humor kids as well as adults appreciate. When you have a boy helping you, before he picks up an item to be used, hand him a towel to wipe his hands. (Towel is shown on both sides.) After the boy wipes his hands, the towel is covered with dirty hand marks.

A big laugh. Sure fire comedy.

This is a special towel which you can use over and over again.

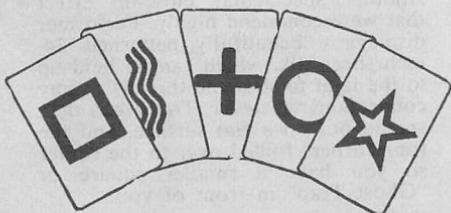

You don't have to be a comedian to use this item. The laughs are built in.

GIANT BUFFALO NICKEL

This coin is three inches in diameter. Made of aluminum, use it in a coin routine or just show for fun.

$1.50

CLASSIC PREDICTION

Don Tanner

This prediction trick is aptly named, for it will indeed become a "classic". Performer shows 5 ESP cards, as illustrated. A sixth card is placed face down, which is called the "prediction card".

Holding the 5 cards face down, they are thoroughly mixed. Spectator is then requested to select any one of the 5 cards. This card is placed on the table next to the "prediction card", which is then turned over and seen to be identical. No sleights, anyone can do. Price, regular bridge size cards _____ $1.00

Stage size, 4 1/2" x 7" _____ 3.00

ANTI-GRAVICO

Any borrowed pop, beer, or cola bottle may be filled with water and handed to performer. He immediately turns it upside down, but water remains in the bottle. Now — to the wise ones — matches, or other small objects are pushed up into the bottle, all with the bottle still upside down, yet the water remains inside.

Now, without hesitation, the bottle is turned upright, and immediately passed for inspection. A dandy pocket trick, works completely surrounded. Price only _____ 50¢

BALL TO JUMBO SQUARE

A red 2" sponge ball is placed in the empty fist. When the performer opens his hand the ball has changed color to black. The other hand is then shown not to contain the palmed red sponge but a large square sponge. The red sponge is then removed from performer's pocket. If you like sponge ball tricks you will want this. Price $2.75

RED SNAPPER

A sucker trick to end all sucker tricks. A pretty little plastic gimmick about 3 inches long. The idea is to hook the rubber band inside the tube, which the performer accomplishes with ease — spectator always fails.

Price only 50¢

PHANTOM CARDS

Five cards are shown, covered with a handkerchief. Two are removed, leaving three under the handkerchief. Kerchief is jerked away, and the remaining three cards have vanished! Much better trick than the low price might indicate.

CHAN'S
Laundry Ticket
A WASHEE TICKET IS TORN + RESTORED!

Chan's Laundry Tickets

A strip of paper representing a Chinese laundry ticket, about 10 inches in length is shown. The ticket is first torn in the center, then into very small strips until all the ticket is completely torn up into small bits. Very deliberately, the bits of paper are unfolded, revealing the ticket completely restored. Easy to work, anyone can do it.

per dozen 1.00

COIN SLIDE

A very popular little trick because it is so simple a small child can work it. A quarter can be placed in the case, push it in — pull it out, and it has vanished. Or, put in a dime, pull out two nickles. Any small object can be vanished.

Price 75¢

IMPS ENCHANTED BOTTLE

A little red bottle that creates more fun than a barrel of monkeys. You can lay it down — no one else can. When anybody else tries it, it immediately rights itself and stands upright. Easy to do, but very mystifying. Impossible for a spectator to make it lay down. Small enough to carry in the vest pocket.

50¢

VANISHING GLASS OF LIQUID

The vanishing of liquid is always mysterious to the audience due to the seeming impossibility of handling liquid in an open container. In this instance, the article vanished is an ordinary whiskey glass of the liquid of your choice, which is placed on the palm of the left hand. Glass is covered, with the right hand, the hands opened—and the glass, liquid and all are gone!

The glass may then be reproduced, contents intact. May be presented close-up, or before an audience.

Complete with glass and necessary equipment, only $1.00

CLIPPO

This fine easy-to-do effect is essentially a close-up trick, but was used on the stage by Blackstone, and as a club or parlor trick, is a dandy.

A strip of newspaper, which is freely shown on both sides and passed for inspection, is doubled over at the center. A pair of scissors cuts off the center of the doubled strip. Yet—upon opening the strip, it is seen to be whole again.

Again the strip is folded over, and again cut, the two pieces held completely apart, then placed together again. A cut of the scissors, and they are restored.

Complete with 15 strips, only $1.00

NICKEL TO PENNY TO DIME

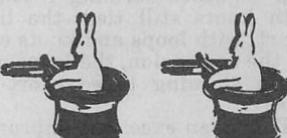

An astounding little pocket effect that leaves the spectator dumfounded as one coin instantly changes to another; and then his eyes seem to deceive him as this second coin disappears, leaving in its place still another coin.

Apparatus consists of a small round wooden box, with removable lid. The entire box may be thoroughly examined. Now, the performer places a nickel in the box, covers it with the lid, makes a magic pass, and removes the cover. Instead of a nickel, the box now contains a penny. The cover is again placed on and removed, only to reveal a dime! A clever, self-working trick that will be one of your favorites. Price $2.00

RABBIT CUFF LINKS

E. J. Moore's INSTANTO ROPE

This rope effect works on an entirely different principle from any other rope trick. For that reason, it enables the performer to fool even the "wise" ones who might be familiar with other more common methods.

Performer exhibits a length of rope which has been tied in a circle. He then cuts the rope in the center of circle, showing the rope at full length. Instantly, however, the two ends are placed together and the rope becomes a circle again.

The finish is completely unexpected. Again the rope is cut in the center; this time, however, the knot dissolves, leaving one long length of rope. Postpaid $2.50

PANAMA ROPE MYSTERY

(Ted Collins)

Prize Winning Effect, IBM Convention

We consider this the best all-round rope trick on the market for the average performer because of its ease of working and the fact that the rope is cut THREE times instead of the conventional one time makes it appear more baffling to the audience. An ordinary piece of rope which can be thoroughly examined is first cut in the center and tied together. Near each end of the rope the performer ties two large loops which are held right out in front of the spectator and cut in two, which leaves the rope cut THREE TIMES, held together by three knots. Wrapping the rope around his hand, the end of the rope is offered to a spectator who pulls it out completely restored!

PRICE, Illustrated Instructions $1.00
Soft Cotton Rope—50 Feet for $1.75

LING-KING ROPES

E. J. Moore

Three short pieces of rope are shown, and with the aid of a spectator, each rope is tied into a separate loop. Now, right in front of the spectator, performer causes the three loops to link together forming a chain. Then, with knots still tied, the link comes apart, with loops and knots still intact. At the conclusion, the loops are untied, again showing three short pieces of rope.

This is an excellent impromptu trick for the parlor, club, or small stage.

TWIST-O-ROPE

Two lengths of rope, 27 inches long, are shown. One rope has a RED tip to represent a Serpent.

A 3 inch plastic bracelet is tied to the end of Red tipped rope (male snake), then the ropes are started to swinging as shown in the illustration, and they entwine themselves around each other. However, when they are pulled apart, the ring is found to be tied onto the end of the plain WHITE rope (female). If desired, you may have a divorce case and the ring flies back to the Red tipped rope! Here is a very clean and clever method, and the "Wedding of the Serpents" patter is very effective. A unique effect, always ready to work, close-up and surrounded. Supplied complete with ropes and bracelet, only

Comedy
HATS and PANTS

A piece of red and a piece of black tissue paper is shown and then torn into pieces and wadded into a ball. The wad is then opened and is seen to be transformed into a beautiful red hat trimmed in black with a pompon on it. It is a full size hat with a wide brim. As a comedy follow-up, two more pieces of paper are torn and become a pair of panties. Good for close-up work or stage.

TRICKY TUMBLER

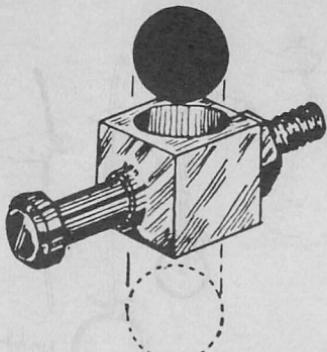

A big 12-ounce tumbler which has many uses. So cleverly constructed that even a few feet away it looks entirely ordinary.

Glass may be placed on the palm of the hand in full view; place your handkerchief over it, smash it, and it is completely gone! Or, place the glass in a paper sack, pour in milk from your Vanishing Milk Pitcher, smash the sack and both glass and milk have vanished!

Once you have used this glass, many new ideas for its use will present themselves. Price

$4.50

STEEL BALL THRU BRASS BOLT

This is a fine piece of precision made apparatus. A steel ball, a polished brass bolt and nut are offered for examination. The large hole in the nut is just big enough to permit the steel ball to pass through. Performer screws the bolt through the two small holes on the side of the nut. The steel ball is placed in the large hole over the bolt. As spectators watch, the ball slowly sinks into the hole and passes completely through the bolt. Entirely mechanical, no skill required.

Four palming coins are freely shown and stacked one on top of the other. There is no doubt that there are four separate coins. The stack is then placed on the back of the hand.

Next, a heavy plastic cover is shown inside and out, and is placed over the coins. The cover is lifted, revealing not 4 coins, but only 3. The missing coin is then produced from your pocket or elsewhere, or if you prefer—the coin may penetrate the hand, dropping to the floor. A dandy trick, easy to perform.

CUPS AND BALLS

A famous old effect, capable of many bewildering moves and changes. Three cups as illustrated are used, with three balls. One by one the balls are caused to penetrate the cups until they are all under one cup. Innumerable routines are available for the Cups and Balls by which it is possible to entertain for half an hour. Routine supplied with this set is so simple it can be learned in just a few minutes. This effect is perfect for close-up work, or the larger size is suitable for stage.

Sterling's SLIK - SILK

This is one of the cleanest and easiest methods ever devised for the production of one or two silks from the empty hands.

After showing both hands completely empty, both back and front, performer reaches right into his left hand and pulls forth an 18-inch handkerchief. If small silks are used, two may be produced. Since this is an ordinary silk, this same silk may be used in any silk trick that might follow. This is especially suitable for a production of a handkerchief for use in Al Baker's Salt Trick.

Suitable for close-up parlor work, or for stage.

Price, no silks included $1.50

TRAP DOOR

Hand this beautiful little chest for examination. The spectator also examines a plastic plate which is in the box. When they are handed back to you, you place a borrowed half dollar or quarter into the slot at the top and it sinks right through the plastic, dropping out the bottom slit!

No duplicate coins are used, the borrowed coin passes right through. A real quality close-up trick, only $3.75

KENARD'S MYSTERY BOX

Neatly polished wood cabinet 2x3-inches after being examined by the spectator, a small ring dropped inside, the doors closed tightly. A small wand is thrust thru small holes in sides of cabinet, spectator opens the door, and removes the wand on which rests the SAME RING! Easy to work, no sleight of hand. All apparatus may be thoroughly examined by the spectator.

$5.00

SIBERIAN CHAIN ESCAPE

The best and most popular low priced escape ever offered. A strong steel chain, keys and a padlock are handed for examination, after which any spectator may bind the performers wrists securely with the chain, which is tightly drawn and locked. If desired, the spectators may furnish their own lock, retaining the key and sealing the key hole. It would seem that escape is impossible, yet within three seconds, the performer is free! Locked upon any spectator, he will find himself hopelessly bound and unable to release himself without use of the key. Very effective in connection with escape acts or it can be carried in your pocket and performed at any time. Easily learned—no skill necessary. Very highly recommended.

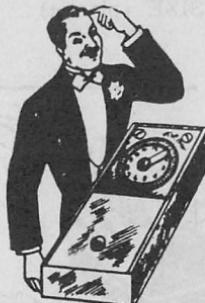

Price, with Chain, Lock and complete Instructions.

TUBE AND BALL

A positive baffle. The kind of trick you can do, but nobody else in the audience can. Nor can they even suggest the correct solution. A small brass tube and a steel ball are shown. You lay the ball on top of the tube. At the word of command the ball slowly sinks into the tube out of sight. A moment later it slowly appears in view and again rests on top of the tube, as the spectators look on with puzzled faces. Now, the tube and ball are given some member of the audience, but to the astonishment of all, nobody can do it, because the ball is of greater diameter than the tube! Both brass Tube and the Ball are solid and cannot be manipulated in any way.

WILD CARDS

The effect of this outstanding trick is unbelievable. Performer counts off 9 cards, calling attention to the fact that 8 of the 9 cards are identical, and the one "wild" card is of a different suit and value. Four of the cards are dealt on to the table face down, four of the remainder are dealt face up. Performer is left holding the "wild" card.

He then taps the backs of the four face down cards, and as they are turned over, it is found that all have changed both in suit and value to that of the "wild" card. Needless to say, all EIGHT cards change to that of the "wild" card, with such rapidity that the spectator is breathless.

A real wild trick that will build your reputation, and a "must" for close-up workers. Complete with neat card case.

COLOR CHANGING KNIFE

Because a pocket knife is a perfectly natural object for a man to carry in his pocket, this effect has long been recognized as one of the finest of pocket tricks. This knife may be used as an ordinary knife, then amazing things happen.

An attractive dark handled knife is plainly shown on both sides, then by merely pushing it through the fist, it changes color, and is again shown on both sides. The knife may again be pushed through the hand and it changes back to the original color, then changes again at will. Now, the knife is placed on the open hand, the hand is closed around it, hand is opened and knife has vanished, only to be reproduced from the pocket and passed for examination.

WONDER BLOCKS

MAGIC SCREW

Try to get the ring off! This ordinary looking bolt and nut is anything but ordinary, although it appears perfectly normal. Try as he may, the spectator will struggle without success, but if you know the secret it will work instantly. Startling, mystifying, bewildering.

Price $1.50

We consider this one of the finest pocket tricks ever produced. Performer shows a solid small tube about 4" long, $1/2$ " in diameter, and three solid red, white and blue plastic blocks. The tube is placed on end, the blue and white blocks dropped into it, followed by the red block — upon lifting the tube, the red block is found on the bottom of the stack. The routine is repeated, this time only to find the red block has gone between the other two.

DEVIL WAND

A wand about six inches in length has a hole in each end. Thru the holes is a string with a metal ball and tassel. One string is short and the other long. The performer pulls on the short string, it becomes long and the other becomes short. This can be repeated as many times as desired. The wand is then separated in the center and the pieces passed for examination. Price $2.50

SILKS FROM NEWSPAPER

An unprepared sheet of newspaper shown on both sides, is placed over right hand. Punching a small hole in the paper, magician pulls out a small handkerchief; another hole, another handkerchief, until he has produced four silks right from the printed page. Complete with 4 silks, apparatus and instructions.

THE FLYING MARBLES

Four marbles, which may be examined, are placed in the right hand, which is closed. The left hand, empty, is closed. Now, on command, a marble travels into the left hand, from the right. The right is opened and only three are left. The moves are repeated until every marble has in some mysterious manner passed from the right hand and appears in the left. A clever little pocket stunt, easily learned.

Price 50¢

CHING SOO FIRE CRACKER

Performer passes for examination a tubular case with cover, and shows a giant firecracker about $5\frac{1}{2}$ inches long. Fuse is lighted and immediately begins to sputter and throw out sparks. To avoid having the firecracker explode in his hand, he quickly places it in the previously examined case, closes the cover and gives it to the spectator to hold.

A silk is then vanished, spectator is requested to open case, but to his amazement the firecracker has disappeared and the vanished silk completely fills the tube. A moment later the cracker is found hanging on the assistant's back. The assistant, incidentally may be a member from the audience.

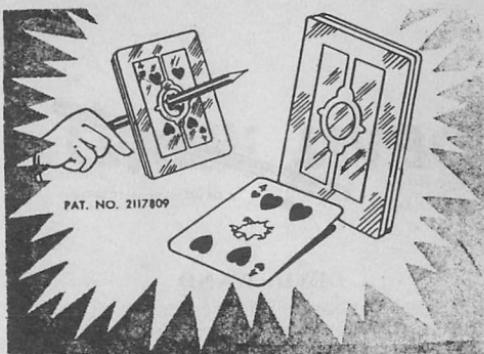

Case is finely made and will stand rigid examination.

COLOR CHANGING BALLS

This beautiful effect is simple to do but always makes a hit with the audience. A red wooden ball is shown, then it is wrapped into a red silk and both are placed into a glass. Performer then shows a green silk, and wraps it around a green ball, which is placed in a second glass. After saying the "magic words", performer removes the red silk and a GREEN BALL is discovered in the glass. The green silk is removed, a RED BALL is found. Silks, balls, and glasses are all ordinary. SUTEKINI FRAME

A plastic frame, measuring about 5" x 5" has a crosspiece that contains a series of holes. Into this frame you place a sheet of heavy transparent plastic which also contains holes that correspond to those in the crosspiece.

A white cord is now threaded back and forth thru the holes in full view, securing the two pieces together. Yet, while the ends of the cord are held by spectators, the plastic sheet comes free of the frame and cord, which is still threaded thru the crosspiece! Easy to do, nicely made, a great value for only Price $5.00

This is by far the biggest dollar's worth of mental magic on the market. The spectator turns to any page and a word is selected. Performer writes a prediction on a piece of paper. When the paper is read, it has written on it the exact word that was selected. Complete with 300-page booklet.

CHEK-ER-X

A brand new idea in this line. It even fools the best posted magicians!

Four brightly colored wooden checkers with Chinese designs and a hole thru each one are shown. The GREEN checker is dropped down to the center of the rope, the other three down over both ropes, so the GREEN checker keeps them from coming off. All are examined so the audience is convinced that it is impossible to pull the other checkers off over the GREEN one.

Yet that is the only way they could be removed, as the ends of the rope are tied with genuine knots and hung around someone's neck, so that the checkers hang down behind their back. The Magician reaches around and INSTANTLY removes the checkers from the rope, leaving the GREEN one in place. Again all are examined.

The wonder deck, that will give you a reputation as an expert card manipulator. Yet, it is to all appearances an ordinary deck and may be used in all card games the same as any deck. Many of the feats possible, are truly marvelous and will entertain and mystify a whole company. No one has ever been able to fathom the secret of the Wizards Deck. It should be borne in mind that the secret lies in the cards and does not depend upon sleight-of-hand or skill. The merest novice soon becomes the center of attraction with this wonderful deck. Here are a few of the amazing feats that may be performed:

SOME OF THE TRICKS YOU CAN DO

1. The two colors of the pack may be divided by one cut.
2. A card may be drawn, shuffled in the pack and cut the first time.
3. A selected card is passed through a table.
4. Six persons draw a card each, return them and shuffle the deck, after which the performer at once produces them, pulling them rapidly from the deck, one after the other.
5. During performer's absence from the room a card is chosen and returned to the deck. Upon return, the selected card is instantly located.
6. The pack is cut at any place and the number of cards in each portion is instantly named.
7. Chosen cards, upon being shuffled into the deck and placed in the coat pocket, are instantly produced as rapidly as called out by the choosers.
8. The chosen card mysteriously reverses its position in the deck.
9. The four Aces placed in different portions of the deck, instantly assemble themselves at the top or bottom of the deck.
10. A chosen card replaced in the deck mysteriously vanishes.

THE CONJUROR'S DECK

This deck is especially recommended for amateurs, though it is extensively used, also, by professionals. With this trick deck, many bewildering effects are possible which could not be performed with an ordinary deck. For instance a card may be selected, returned to the deck and shuffled. You make it appear at any number from the top called by a spectator. A selected card is torn and burned, yet becomes magically restored in full. A selected card is returned to the deck and thoroughly shuffled. Spectator is allowed to insert a knife into the deck and when deck is cut at that place the blade is found resting on his selected card. A sealed envelope is given a spectator. He is then requested to draw a card. When he opens the envelope, he will find on a slip of paper the name of the card he has just drawn! The number of good tricks possible with this deck is almost unlimited and no skill or sleight-of-hand is required. The deck comes complete with full instructions and you can begin using it within a few minutes.

Price $1.25

THE 50-50 FORCING DECK

A "forcing" deck is one that permits the performer to "force" the spectator to select the card he wants drawn, while the spectator is under the impression he has "free choice." You can at once see how valuable such a deck is and no magician or amateur should be without one. Naturally with this deck you instantly know what card spectator draws, because he always draws the card you want him to draw. Yet, the cards are shown different and if you wish you may let them lift up a stack and examine them all they wish. After showing the cards thoroughly mixed and "all different," you ask them to select a card and return to the deck. The deck is shuffled until all trace of the card is lost. Still performer can produce the card from any place, name it instantly, have name appear in sealed envelope or on tied slates, etc. A very valuable deck for every lover of mystifying card effects. SVENGALI DECK

You show them all different—then, you show them all alike! Truly, the wonder deck of Magic. With this deck you can perform feats that have heretofore required the skill of an expert. Yet, no manipulation or skill is necessary and the cards are not marked. They are actually shown to be all different and thoroughly mixed. A member of the audience selects any card he desires from the deck. You do not see it, touch it, or in any way influence his selection, yet you know instantly the name of his card. This effect alone is worth many times the price of the deck. Another card is selected and returned to the center of the deck. You now begin removing a card at a time from the deck, until commanded to stop by the audience. At the word "Stop" you turn the card over you happen to have at that time and to the amazement of all it is the chosen card! Only one deck is used and no exchanges of any kind are made. The clever principle is so skillfully employed that detection is practically impossible. With this deck and our complete instructions many wonders may be performed. It is especially useful where it is necessary for you to know beforehand the name of a card that will be drawn.

R. W. Hull's Mental Photography Deck

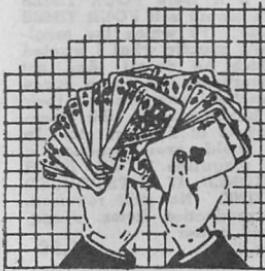

To begin, the cards are shown to be completely blank on both sides. As you show the cards, you explain that you have found a new method of printing cards. All you need is 53 pieces of white cardboard the same size of playing cards and that the process is purely mental.

So saying, you proceed to riffle the deck and show that you now have a complete deck. Turn the deck over, the backs are seen to be still blank. Again riffling, you show that all the backs have also been printed.

You can reverse the process if you wish, and all the faces and backs will again disappear. This deck comes complete with routine that will be an entire act in itself. Price 2.50

THE BRAIN WAVE DECK

Dai Vernon

Here is a modern miracle. Performer tosses a card case containing a full pack of cards on the table and states that before leaving home he removed one card and placed it face down in this pack. He continues by asking any one of the spectators to name a card—any card. Performer then removes cards from case, runs thru them until he comes to one face down which proves to be the very card named by the spectator. No elimination—spectator may name any one of the 52 cards and the very card he names is discovered face down in pack. No fumbling, hesitation or manipulation. Complete with deck of cards (Best make).

Richard Himmer's NEWSWEEK PRODUCTION

This effect is destined to become one of the most popular tricks. The "patter" is about a magician who went to see the publishers of Newsweek magazine with the suggestion that they enlarge its size. To demonstrate, he magically changes the magazine to TWICE its size and says "Newsweek would sell TWICE as much advertising if it were this size." The manager of Newsweek then remarks, "I suppose if it were FOUR TIMES the regular size, we would sell FOUR TIMES as much advertising." To which the magician answers, "That's exactly what I wanted to show you: (which he does!) And not only would the advertisers buy more space but they could enclose samples of their products, such as handkerchiefs, silk stockings, ribbons, bouquets of flowers, etc. In fact, a magician could even produce a RABBIT from the magazine." GREAT BILLIARD BALL TRICK

This famous trick is one of the classics of magic and has been performed the world over, being a great favorite with audiences and magicians alike. The hands are seen to be completely empty—one hand is thrust into the air and suddenly a ball is produced at the finger-tips. A wave of the hand and a second ball magically appears, quickly followed by a third ball, and finally a fourth one—all produced in the one hand and held at the finger-tips.

The balls are knocked together to prove them solid, and still held in one hand, are caused to vanish as mysteriously as they appeared. From four, they become three, then two, and finally there is left but one ball which also vanishes.

Made up of beautifully colored red balls, highly enameled and polished.

FAMOUS DOLLAR BILL AND LEMON. As used by one of America's master Magicians. A bill borrowed from the audience, record of the Serial Number kept by spectator, is placed in a handkerchief, from which it instantly vanishes. Cutting open a lemon, which may be examined, beforehand, performer extracts the missing bill, which is identified.

BILLS FROM THE AIR. The sight of much money always attracts attention. The mysterious manner in which this money is produced always makes a hit. May be worked on the Stage or in any small gathering of friends, with equal ease. After showing both hands empty, back and front, they are placed together and slowly waved up and down. Gradually there appears the tip of a bill, then another, and another, until you have a whole fan of currency. Complete instructions.

W-H-A-M! "It's impossible!", they will say. Yet here is the effect that knocks 'em cold. You borrow a pencil which is held firmly at each end by a spectator. Folding a new dollar bill twice, once lengthwise and once widthwise, you hit the pencil a sharp blow and break it in half, smooth and clean! All you need is the bill and pencil. No concealed apparatus. A winner impromptu stunt, ready at all times.

MEASURED PAPER RESTORATION. From an ordinary newspaper, a strip is cut. This is measured by a member of the audience. Paper is doubled over and burned in the middle with a match. Restoration is immediately made and paper is found to be same length as at first! No skill, no sleight-of-hand. Only one piece of paper used. You will agree this is an unusually clever idea. Complete instructions.

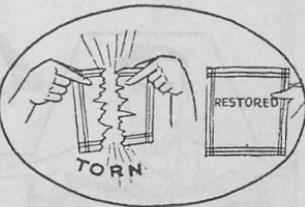

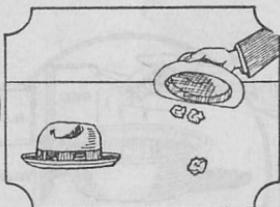

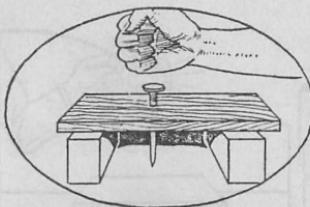

THE HINDU TURBAN. While many versions of this popular effect are offered for sale by various Dealers, we feel safe in saying that the two methods here offered cannot be excelled anywhere. A long piece of cheese cloth is shown and cut in half, the four ends shown and two of them knotted together and fire applied. The performer grasps the knotted portions, extinguishes the blaze and has the assistants pull at each end. To the amazement of all, the knot gives way and the cheese cloth is completely restored to its original length. Very effective in Parlor, at Club or on the Stage, and no skill is required. The material is obtainable anywhere and all that is needed is the instructions which we send.

FLAG TO REAL EGG. The ordinary changing of a flag to an egg is very easy. But with this method you change the flag to an egg and then tell the audience you will reveal the method, leading them to think you are using a trick egg of some kind. Imagine their surprise, however, at the conclusion of the second transformation you actually break the egg in a glass and prove it to be real! A clever method, not at all difficult. Complete instructions.

SELECT MAGICAL SECRETS

35¢, 3 for $1.00

SAMPSON'S NAIL DRIVE. Taking a square-cut nail and a plain board solidly placed, performer with a blow of his fist, drives the nail clear thru the board at one punch. Appears very difficult and a feat of amazing strength, but really easy to learn.

PENETRATING PAPER BALLS. Four small balls are made of paper. Placing them on the table in the form of a square, you place two hats over two of them. Taking one of the uncovered balls, you pass it under the table and command it to pass. Upon lifting one of the hats, the ball is seen there with the other. Again this is repeated, until 3 balls are under one hat and finally at a snap of the fingers the ball from the other hat travels over and all four balls are together. We can safely say this is one of the neatest, most mystifying little effects you can possibly get and it can be worked anywhere, at any time without preparation.

THE TORN AND RESTORED NAPKIN. A paper napkin is torn into several pieces, rolled up into a ball and tapped lightly with a dinner knife. Then it is enrolled and found completely restored. This effect is large enough for parlor or stage entertainment and easy to do. Very popular.

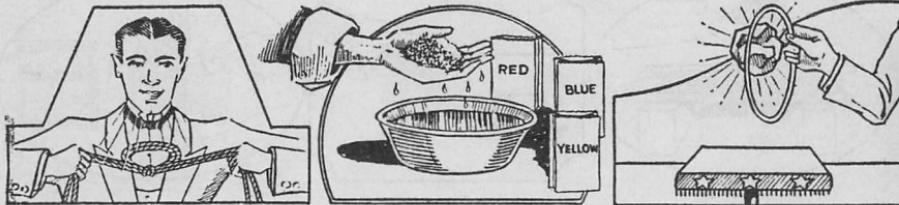

GYLLECKS MEPHISTO MEMORY. 28 Cards are used, laid out in several rows. The performer's back is turned, but he instantly names a mentally selected card when the spectator simply tells him the card is a Heart, Diamond, etc., no information being given as to its value. A very bewildering mental effect.

TO LIFT A PERSON WITH FINGER TIPS. Two persons insert a finger each, under knee and armpits of a seated person, and lift him up several inches from the chair on which he is sitting. Gravity is seemingly defied in this curious experiment which is well worth knowing.

COMEDY SHIRT PULLING. Grasping the assistant's shirt by the collar, performer pulls it off in a jiffy, though the assistant has his coat on. After pulling off the shirt, it is shown that the collar and cuffs are buttoned and necktie encircles the collar. This always brings a laugh and is mystifying indeed.

35¢, 3 for $1.00

THE STRANGLE HALTER. Performer shows two pieces of cord which he passes around his neck and securely fastens in front with two or three knots. Suddenly, to the bewilderment of all, he jerks the cords right thru his neck. A great impromptu effect as it can be done anywhere with any cords.

THE SAHARA SANDS. A bowl is shown and into it are poured three bags of colored sand, the bowl first being filled with water. Now performer stirs the sand until the three colors of sand have been thoroughly mixed, after which he places his empty right hand into the bowl and produces any color sand called for—perfectly dry. This is repeated until each color is produced, all dry.

FLOATING PAPER BALL. The performer comes out with a newspaper which he wads up into a large paper ball and casts it on the floor. At the word of command the ball rises in the air and as positive proof there is no connection, a hoop is passed over and around the ball.

THE SERPENT HANDKERCHIEF. An ordinary silk handkerchief tied in a loose knot is held at arms' length. Now a weird and mysterious effect is beheld. In a slow serpentine manner the end of the handkerchief slowly turns, comes up thru the loop and unties itself.

MAGNETIC CLINGING WAND. Every performer has a wand. Why not get a little magical effect out of it? After passing it for examination you can make it adhere to the hand, finger tips, wrist, crown of hat, back of hand, etc. No clips, wax, or pin points used.

THE DOUBLE ESCAPE. With a length of cord the thumbs are tied very tightly and then the wrists are also fastened. Escape is apparently impossible, yet you are able to release your self in an instantaneous manner. A valuable escape feature.

F. RICK

NO. 15, THE DIVINING KNIFE. A selected card is replaced in the deck, which is completely wrapped in paper. A spectator takes a knife and thrusts the blade through the paper, into the deck. With the blade penetrating the wrapper clear into the deck, the paper is torn off, the cards removed and the selected card is found next to the knife blade. This is a great effect, whether performed on the Stage, in the Parlor, or out in the open among friends. Seemingly impossible, yet can be learned within a few minutes.

NO. 16, TEN ICHI THUMB TIE. After performer has his thumbs securely tied by the audience, he passes his arm around a pole and through a hoop, in full view of the audience. He can put his arms around a pole or through the rounds of a chair and have his thumbs tied while in this position and he will release himself instantly. This wonderful effect has been performed with great success by the foremost magicians of today. Our instructions for this tie are very complete.

NO. 17, MODERN SEALED LETTER READING. By this latest method the performer is enabled to read a message in a sealed envelope while he is blindfolded, in a dark room, completely surrounded by a committee. Many methods for performing this effect sell at high prices, yet are no better than the simple method we describe here.

No. 11. SPIRIT TAPE TIE. Particularly useful in connection with "Trunk Escape" and "Substitution Act." A piece of black tape is offered for examination and one of the performer's wrists tied with each end of the tape, in a hard knot so that the possibility of untying them and retying them would be out of the question. Though both hands are tied in this manner behind the performer's back, the moment he is alone in the cabinet, the usual manifestations take place. The operator can free himself in a moment and just as quickly become tied again and all knots will stand rigid examination.

"3" Escapes

NO. 29 PACKING CASE ESCAPE. You are placed into a large dry goods box. The cover is nailed on by a committee from the audience, or borrowed padlocks may be used to secure the cover. It is then securely bound with large ropes and it would seem impossible for anyone to escape therefrom. Yet, within two or three minutes, you are free and the committee examining the case find it in the same condition as they left it.

NO. 30, THE BARREL ESCAPE. An easy clever escape that is very inexpensive. An ordinary sugar barrel is brought to the stage. After you enter the barrel, have the committee of spectators nail the cover on securely. Escape seems impossible, as all will agree. Yet you escape from the barrel and when examined again, the cover is still found nailed!

NO. 31, THE SACK ESCAPE. A large sack is thoroughly examined by the audience, after which you get into it and have the top tied with a rope and the knots sealed. A screen is placed in front of you. Within a few seconds you come from behind the screen with the sack on your arms. The knots still tied and sealed!

No. 9. KELLER'S ROPE TIE. A piece of sash cord without preparation is offered for examination. A committee from the audience is allowed to securely tie the cord around the performer's left wrist, after which the right hand is placed over the left and bound tightly to it. Though his hands are tied in this position behind his back, the performer, who faces the audience, can instantly show one hand free. Turning quickly around, he is still securely tied as at the beginning. This tie may also be used to great advantage in Spirit Cabinet work. All the usual spiritualistic manifestations take place and a close examination of the ropes and knots may be allowed at any time.

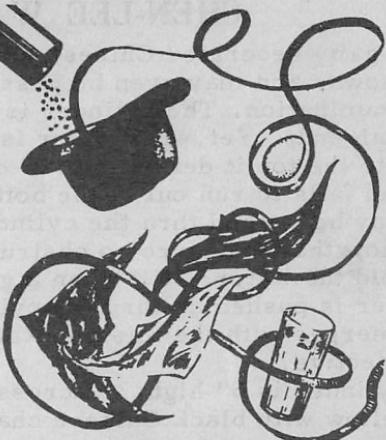

No. 10. GYLLECK'S CHALLENGE TAPE TIE. This baffling tie, the invention of Gylleck, the Magician, has been used by him for some time in his performance. The hands, legs, ankles and neck are securely tied to a chair with five pieces of tape and the knots sewed and sealed, yet all spirit manifestations take place immediately and the knots are still found sewed and sealed. Release is easy and indetectable.

BRASSIERE TRICK

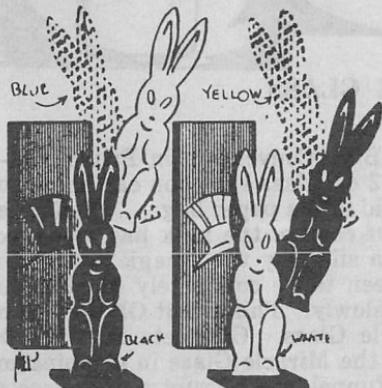

A great comedy stunt. Two hanks are tied together by corners, a borrowed girl comes up to assist. She holds knot in front of her chest while person on each side grasps free corner of each hank. When they pull, a dainty pink brassiere appears tied between, getting a big laugh. Self-contained, easy to work.

AMAZING HAT LOADER

Here is a piece of magical equipment you will use again and again! Magician shows a colorful container filled with confetti. He pours some of the confetti into a borrowed hat. Instantly, he reaches into the hat and first produces a realistic wooden egg, then several silk handkerchiefs, then a large 20 foot colorful garland streamer, and finally a glass of milk. Absolutely no body loads can be done in center of stage, away from tables. We furnish container, wooden egg, milk glass, and streamer.

that the rabbits are White on one side, Black on the other, and that the Magician simply turned them around.

But, wait a minute—the wise audience is in for quite a shock, for when the rabbits are finally turned around at the finish, the White rabbit is seen to be Red on the opposite side, and the Black rabbit is Yellow.

Apparatus is nicely made, rabbits are attractively lacquered, mounted on neat bases.

HIPPITY-HOP RABBITS

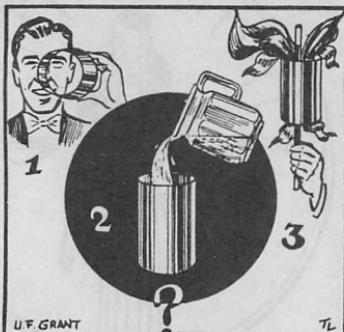

Two attractive rabbits are shown, one a White rabbit, the other a Black rabbit. Two covers, one with a White top hat, the other with a Black top hat are placed respectively over the rabbits.

The object, as explained by the Magician, is for the rabbits to change places. The rabbits do change places, but the audience becomes exasperated because they cannot fail to see the way the covers are turned. Audience immediately jumps to the conclusion

CHEN-LEE WATER SUSPENSION

A gaily decorated Chinese Cylinder is shown, and may even be passed for examination. The cylinder is open at both ends. Yet, when water is poured into the top it defies the law of gravity and fails to run out of the bottom. Silks may be pushed thru the cylinder to show that there are no obstructions to hold the water. Still when a glass tumbler is pushed up thru the cylinder, it emerges with the missing water. Very effective.

Cylinder is 5" high, 3" across, bright yellow with black Chinese characters.

THE MIRACLE GLASS

John Frank

This was a prize winning effect at the I.B.M. Convention in Pittsburgh—and well deserving of it. Imagine a tall 12 oz. glass that you can show full of milk or any other liquid. Pour the liquid into a paper bag . . . then crush the bag and throw it at the audience. Of course, the milk has vanished! Now cover the glass for an instant with a silk, say the "magic word" and when the silk is removed, the glass is seen to be completely filled again. You can make the milk vanish quickly or slowly. This is but ONE of many different effects possible with the Miracle Glass. Complete routines included for 5 other startling effects. Use the Miracle Glass in combination with Liquid Appear, Rice Bowls, Magic Funnel, etc. Truly a fine piece of apparatus and the price is low.

MAGGIE'S NIGHT OUT

A borrowed half-dollar represents Jiggs, a wooden coin slide is used for his home, and a box with two doors represents Dinty Moore's Place. Jiggs leaves home, going to Dinty Moore's of course. Maggie follows to find him. However, each time she opens the swinging door, she hears someone move to the other side. Finally, she opens both doors at once, and Jiggs has dissapeared.

Maggie returns home only to find Jiggs just where he was supposed to be.

A dandy for parlor or small audiences. Nicely made wooden box and coin slide, self contained. Price _____ $10.00

REILLY'S STOP-LITE

We highly recommend this improved version of a sucker effect that has long been popular, as this new method may be worked completely surrounded by spectators. Three large cards are shown, one containing a red spot, one green, the other yellow. All three cards are placed in a folded newspaper.

Performer now removes the red card, shows both sides; next the green is removed and shown on both sides. Now, what's left? "Yellow," of course, but when the card is removed it contains the word "wrong." The other side? That reads, "wrong again." The newspaper contains nothing and may be tossed to the audience.

CANDY FACTORY

A glass tumbler overflowing with sugar is shown. A portion of it is poured off to show that the glass is actually filled with sugar. A fancy metal tube just large enough to cover the glass is shown to be empty and unprepared, and placed over the glass.

A few magic passes, the tube is removed and the sugar has vanished, and the glass is seen to be filled with candy, which may be passed out to the audience. Especially suitable for children's shows.

If desired, instead of candy, performer may change a glass of tobacco into cigarettes, or use the apparatus as a vanish. Completely self-working, no skill required. Price _____

VANISHING PITCHER OF MILK

Considering ease of working, effectiveness and for general all round use, we consider this the finest trick brought out in recent years. Performer exhibits a large glass transparent pitcher full of milk. Forming a cone with a newspaper, the milk is poured into the cone while the bottom is held tightly to prevent leaking. The cone of milk is handed to a spectator. The instant he takes it, performer suddenly crushes the cone, revealing that the milk has vanished. Easy to perform, can be worked within a few feet of the audience, still excellent for stage use.

A dollar bill similar to the one borrowed is seen to be trapped between two plastic sheets held together by rubber bands. A padlock also locks them together. Thru a window in the top plastic sheet the spectator puts his initial. The spectator is given the padlocked bill to hold. The performer reaches into his pocket and removes the bill he had put there, on it is the spectator's initial. The bill between the plastic plates held by the spectator contains the performer's initial. A very good trick. $8.75

THE GENII TUBE

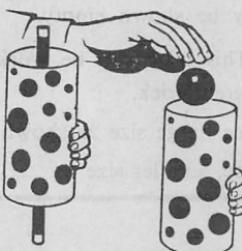

This is a very deceptive piece of apparatus for silk magic. A highly decorated metal tube 11" tall by 4" in diameter, hinged so that it opens out lengthwise. All may see it is empty and apparently without deception. Still, when it is closed up, a large production of silks, streamers, etc. is possible. Many effects are possible with this. Colored silks stuffed in come out the other end in one large blended silk. The price for this beautiful tube, no silks is only $15.00, by mail $15.35.

HEAVY AIR TUBE

A classy metal cylinder is used. There are no obstructions, no threads, wires, nylon, etc., and the cylinder is open at both ends.

Still you can pour water in and it will not run out the other end. Drop a ball or egg in and they remain suspended. Science takes over magic with heavy air!

PHONE-Y PHONE

A dandy gadget for anyone doing a comedy routine, Phoney Phone is an ingenious battery operated device concealed under the coat or in a pocket that produces an authentic ring of a telephone. Just push a button and you receive a "call" instantly from anyone you might imagine. Complete with bell device, stretch cord, hand piece, battery, only $5.00

KEY-R-RECT

This is an unusual effect with audience participating. Although it is in the realm of mental magic, it will fit into a regular magic act with equally fine results.

You give a committee of spectators a padlock and five keys, none of which will open the lock. You then give them a sixth key which they will find will open it. They are requested to mix up the keys and seal them in separate unprepared envelopes. Remember — you need never touch or see the lock, keys or envelopes.

Now, spectators hold up the envelopes one at a time as you stand across stage and concentrate. Suddenly, you stop them. They tear open the envelope you have designated and it opens the lock. Truly, extrasensory perception. An ingenious principle, great on stage, baffling close-up, uncanny by telephone!

MUTILATED PARASOL

This famous trick never fails to get a good reception wherever presented. A parasol is first shown, opened up and closed, after which it is rolled up in an ordinary newspaper with the handle remaining in full view at all times. Six colored silks are then shown, and dropped into a cloth handbag. The bag is then opened, but instead of the silks, it is found to contain the cover of the parasol.

The parasol is next removed from the paper, and is now seen to be the skeleton framework only, with the vanished silks tied to each rib. For the finish, a reversal of the above process transforms the articles back to their original state.

This effect comes complete with parasol, handbag, and silks,

One of the finest stage effects you can buy, yet it is just as good for homes, nite-clubs, etc., as it may be worked close up and even with the audience all around the performer.

The magician exhibits a miniature, Colonial china cabinet just large enough for one plate which is plainly visible thru the large openings in the front doors. The thin back of the cabinet is hinged, so that it may be opened to show the interior better.

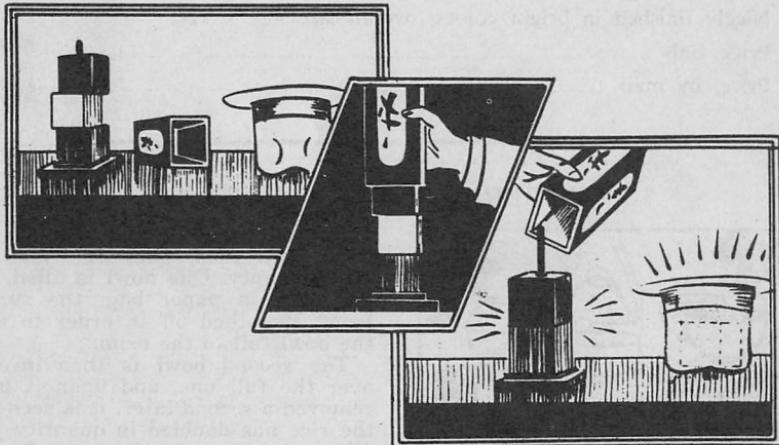

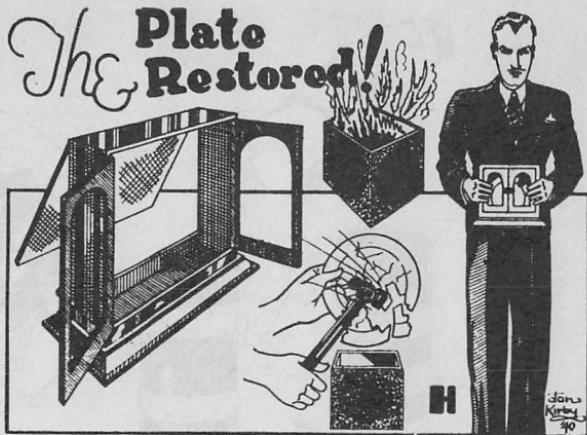

The plate is taken from the cabinet and handed, along with a hammer, to a boy from the audience. The boy breaks the plate into small pieces, retaining one of them. He wraps the others in tissue paper and puts them in the "Fire Box." Immediately he lights the paper with a match. The magician says a magic word, there is a flash of fire and smoke, and the box is turned over to show that nothing remains but a few ashes!

Now a pistol is given to the boy while the magician holds the china cabinet. The boy fires at the cabinet and instantly and visibly the plate appears inside! It is taken out and shown to be completely restored with the exception of the missing piece which the boy has been holding all the time. The piece is found to fit exactly in the plate!

Everything is done right out in the open—no hidden moves, exchanges, etc. There is nothing the least bit hard to do. Takes no time for setting up—may be carried ready to perform. It is one of the most perfect effects we have ever seen and we give it our highest recommendation.

KARSON'S ZOMBIE

Positively the most uncanny and amazing magic effect of its kind, which has taken the magic world by storm and is the most talked of effect of the past decade.

The magician weaves a strange and fantastic story about zombies. He tells about a mystic silver sphere that these zombies must have about them day and night, about the ghostly and radiant power that this ball has locked within itself; and that this amazing sphere gives the zombie another form of life after he or she is dead.

He tells the audience that should this ball come in contact with the performer or any member of the audience while it is radiating this mysterious influence that they, too, would become zombies—and thus he will control it with a piece of cloth.

The ball is on his table, a silver ball, about 4 inches in diameter, like a mirror it reflects the many lights about it. The cloth is shown on both sides, then placed over the ball, the magician still holding two ends of the cloth.

Slowly and unbelievably the form of the ball rises, taking the cloth with it—it rises up and up, until it is clear of the table. Then it floats away from the table, under the cloth, and now it sinks down out of sight leaving the cloth in performer's hand; but, wait, it now floats up and into view, toward the performer, then toward the audience, taking the cloth with it—up and up until the cloth is almost out of the performer's reach. Finally, the ball slowly descends to the table, the cloth is removed, the ball is now inert and placed on its base.

Willard S. Smith, writing for the Linking Rings, says: "We have read the raves about Karson's Zombie, but had never seen it worked until Joe did it for us across the counter. One of our favorite effects is the floating ball, so it isn't strange we were fascinated as the silver spherized Zombie rose from the table, floated high in the air, back again, suddenly vanished only to reappear under the foulard. Here is a trick that will never die. It will live to become one of the classics of magic. Yes, we bought it . . . it is a trick you enjoy doing in front of the mirror."

We would like to have you know some facts. We urge you to take every statement for its full value. There are no threads used. This is a one-man stunt, two people are NOT needed. The performer has absolute control over the ball at all times. The cloth is unprepared.

WHAT'S NEXT

A giant card, $9\frac{1}{2}'' \times 6\frac{1}{2}''$, is shown to have one pip on one side, Four on the other. Turning it back, it is seen that there are now Three pips on the first side, Six on the reverse. But there is more to come — the performer now offers to expose the secret of the trick.

He shows the card back and front, with the pips so arranged that by placing the hand over certain pips, it is possible to show in succession 1-4-3 or 6 pips. But little does the audience know what is in store for them, for on turning the card once again with fingers at the extreme edges of the card and the entire face of the card in full view, one side now has Four pips — the other Three pips, to be followed by Six pips, One, and then finally, EIGHT! EL BLOCKO

This is a very effective trick that works equally well in the parlor, club or stage. Besides creating a very miraculous effect on the audience, the apparatus itself is such that it makes a very neat appearance on the table.

Performer exhibits a square wooden tube about 3x7 inches, and shows it to be empty. A piece of glass is then placed on top of the tube. A second tube is also shown to be empty and is placed on top of the glass. Now, a solid block of wood which is just large enough to fit inside the tube is dropped into the top tube and falls into the bottom tube, apparently going right through the solid piece of glass. Both tubes are then shown empty and the glass is shown intact.

CHOP CHOP CUP

A highly polished aluminum cup is shown, also a hand knit ball, both appear to be perfectly innocent. The ball is caused to vanish only to re-appear under the cup, then it passes from the performer's pocket back under the cup, Magi then makes the ball penetrate thru the top of the cup, and finally turns into a lemon.

You can perform the above and much more with only a limited amount of practice due to the clever construction of the apparatus. plus a complete routine. This is sure to become your favorite close-up trick.

Wonderful for mindreading! A spectator writes a question on a piece of paper and drops it into the flames. You immediately answer the question without any stalling. With each Canister we supply you with a manuscript of 20 ~~good~~ tricks you can work with it. Price, only $5.00 by mail $5.25

Prof. Fairchild's Color Rapport has the boys excited. Performer exhibits 4 different colored plaques, each about 3 x 5 inches. These are shuffled and placed in color rack in order designated by spectator, backs toward audience.

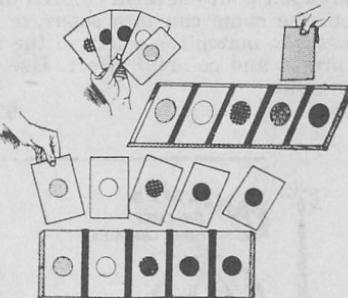

When the plaques are turned around, it is found the colors all match, proving the spectator did in fact pick the right ones thru E.S.P. Easy to do, work it anywhere, nice looking equipment. Only $9.50 by mail $10.00

THE DEVIL'S CANISTER

U. F. Grant

The Devil's Canister really opens up an entirely new field in Magic for those who do not use an assistant. Through it you are able to gain possession of borrowed rings, bills, messages, etc. to be reproduced in a nest of boxes, etc.

For example, you toss a lit match into the Devil's Canister, and real flames shoot up and fill the whole interior. Now any spectator takes out a bill, notes the serial number and drops it into the fire, where it is consumed

LIT CANDLE TO SILKS

Magician displays brass candle holder containing candle, which he lights, then removes from holder. Next, he shows an empty polished metal tube, just large enough to fit over the candle. He then covers the still burning candle with the tube, then blows out the flame, covering the ends of the tube with tissue paper and metal caps, to form two drum heads.

Now, both tissue seals are broken, and silks are produced from both ends of the tube. Audience is again allowed to look completely through the tube showing the candle has vanished! Beautifully made, completely self-contained. Price (no silks included) $16.50

BRAHAM RICE BOWLS

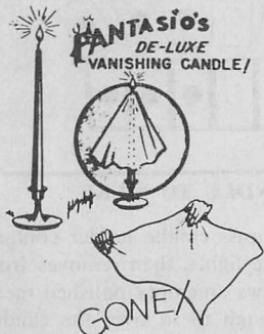

Two beautiful copper rice bowls are shown empty. One is filled to the brim with rice. The other is placed over it so the two openings are together. Magi commands rice to double and upon separating bowls, rice is overflowing, apparently doubling in quantity. Rice is then emptied and the two empty bowls put together again. This time upon separating bowl is found to be full of water. All is self contained, no discs to risk falling off. This is one of the old classics of magic, an impressive effect and beautifully made. Comes with third bowl to hold rice at beginning of trick.

WITCH DOCTOR CAN

A beautiful can is introduced. Water is poured in and out of it several times and left in the can. Magician then produces dry silks from the same can. He thereupon pours several colored drinks from the same can into separate wine glasses to match the colors of the silks. A pretty and colorful effect. Use your own silks.

FANTASIO'S FABULOUS VANISHING CANDLE

A fantastically clever and smooth performer has come up with one of the nicest looking and cleverest handling of this trick. The magician displays a 15" tall candle with holder, and lights same. He then extinguishes the flame to prove it is real. A beautiful silk is now shown and placed over the candle. (Silk has hole in the center to permit the wick to show through). He then relights the candle and the audience sees it burning on top of the handkerchief. The performer removes the lit candle from its holder and suddenly the lit candle vanishes! This may be done surrounded and very close to any audience. Comes complete with candle, holder and silk. A highly recommended item

MIRACLE LIGHT GLOBE

There are numerous ways in which you can use this bulb to create a good and hearty laugh. You pick up what is to all appearances an ordinary light bulb, strike a match and light it; or, simply hold it in your fingers and it becomes lit. Or, strike it on your trousers just as you would strike a match, then blow it out.

There is no end to the funny stunts you can do with this bulb. Entirely mechanical, always ready to operate, without advance preparation.

CHINESE LINKING RINGS

This is probably one of the most popular and mystifying effects ever presented by magicians. The rings are passed for examination. Upon return to the performer, he takes two of them and gently rubs them together. Presto! They are instantly linked together and passed out for examination again. A third ring is linked in like manner and so on until all eight are linked together, when they instantly fall apart on command. It is possible to form a great variety of interesting and mystifying combinations with these rings and the performer may work them right in the midst of the audience without fear of detection.

SLIDING DIE BOX

This is a great sucker gag and no matter where you perform, someone is always ready to "bite" on it and furnish comedy.

Performer places a borrowed hat upon his table, then picks up the Die Box to exhibit. Into one side a large die is placed and both doors closed. It vanishes again and again, each time performer opening only one door at a time and tilting the box as if causing the die to slide to the concealed end of the box. Finally, at the height of the excitement, both doors are opened, the die has vanished, and is produced from the hat!

COLOR CUBE RELEASE

An excellent trick that can be performed close-up or for small stage. Six different colored rectangular wooden cubes are examined. Each cube has a hole in the center. The cubes are placed in a rectangular box, the lid closed and a rod is run thru the cubes and extends from both ends of the box. Lid is closed, blocks can be seen thru small holes in lid of box. The box is inverted and the lid is opened. Only the blocks formerly selected by the spectators fall out. Box with rod still running thru it is immediately passed out for inspection. Performer may, if he wishes, cause the selected cubes to remain on the rod while the others fall out. No practice, it works itself.

NITE CLUB DOVE VANISH

We feel safe in saying that this is the best dove vanish on the market today. It is used by many of the leading nite club performers. In effect a dove is placed in a fancy chest and the chest is then taken apart piece by piece and both sides of each section is shown. The dove has vanished. There are no threads, swinging or hanging loads at any time. This vanish can be worked on any table or in the hands. It can even be done close-up or surrounded. This is a beautifully made piece of equipment and an ideal closing number for a manipulative act.

Deceptive CHANGING BAG

Without doubt the most popular utility item in magic as it has so many uses in different types of tricks. Bag is turned inside out, shown empty, a few silks placed into it, then silks removed and they have changed color — are tied together — or have vanished! Or you can use it as a regular vanisher for other items such as cards, watches, rings, etc. Widely used with 20th Century Silks or Cut and Restored Necktie. Mentalists also find the Changing Bag very useful for spirit messages, etc. For close-up work, or stage.

Beautifully made velvet bag with handle.

GRANT'S POTATO BOX

A chest containing a potato and a length of ribbon... while the spectators examine the potato, the ribbon is threaded through the center of the chest, leaving the ends protruding through the holes at either end of chest. Potato is then returned to chest.

A ring is borrowed and vanished. Upon opening the chest, ribbon is found to be running thru potato. While spectators hold ribbon, potato is sliced in half and there in center of potato and threaded on the ribbon, is the borrowed ring!

Baffling beyond words. Chest measures approximately 8 x 5 x 6 inches. Priced at $17.50 by mail $18.25

LIQUID APPEARANCE

A pretty little colored metal can just large enough to hold a 10 oz. glass is shown, into which is inserted an empty 10 oz. glass, and the lid of the can replaced. The can is reopened and the glass is removed FILLED TO THE TOP with liquid (milk, beer, etc.). And now for the part that even fools the magicians: The liquid may be poured from the glass showing it is completely filled, and the can itself tossed to the audience.

The fact that this startling effect requires no special props, tables, etc., and can be worked within three feet of the audience makes it suitable for any gathering, large or small. Entirely self contained, no tricky moves. You can work it immediately after reading the simple instructions.

TEMPLE SCREEN

A very attractive three fold screen, each panel measuring 9 by 12 inches, is shown on the inside, folded flat, then opened out and shown on the outside. The spectators see both sides of each panel. The screen is then formed into a triangle and a large production follows.

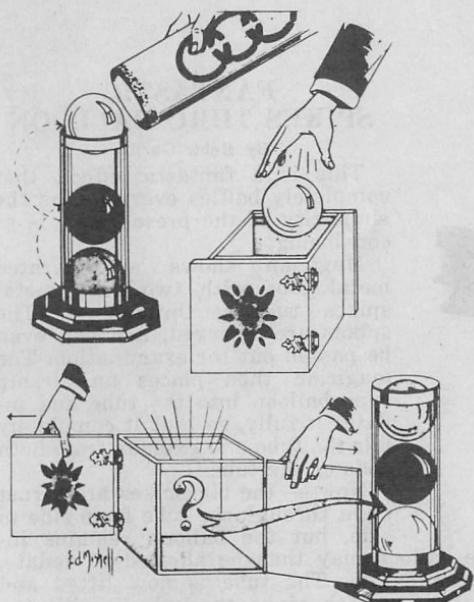

Features

This is an entirely new idea. There are no tipping or revolving load chambers. The load is permanent and does not transfer from one place to another. Each panel is solid. It employs the most perfect, natural and convincing way of showing both sides of the screen. The screen folds flat for carrying and will hold a large load. You can even produce a small rabbit, dove or guinea pig. The screen is attractively decorated with a Buddha design in several contrasting colors on each panel.

STRAT-O-SPHERES

This tops the list. You are supplied with a tall, clear plastic tube, a handsomely decorated metal cover for same, a wooden base, several different colored balls, about 2 1/2" in diameter, and a large box with swinging doors at its front and rear.

Altho there is just room enough for these balls, one on top of the other, to fit the plastic tube, nevertheless, the ball placed on top of the three, successively appears at the bottom and in the center of the three balls. And for a climax, this migratory sphere is placed in the box.

Both doors are opened, you see thru the box, and as quickly as you can say "Grantissimo", the ball has vanished from the box and appears in the plastic tube. This is very colorful, well made, has eye appeal and is well recommended. This trick can be done immediately as it requires no sleights or intricate moves.

FANTASTIC SPIKES THRU BALLOON

By Robt. Gurtler

This is a fantastic effect, that completely baffles everyone, as the simplicity of the presentation is so convincing.

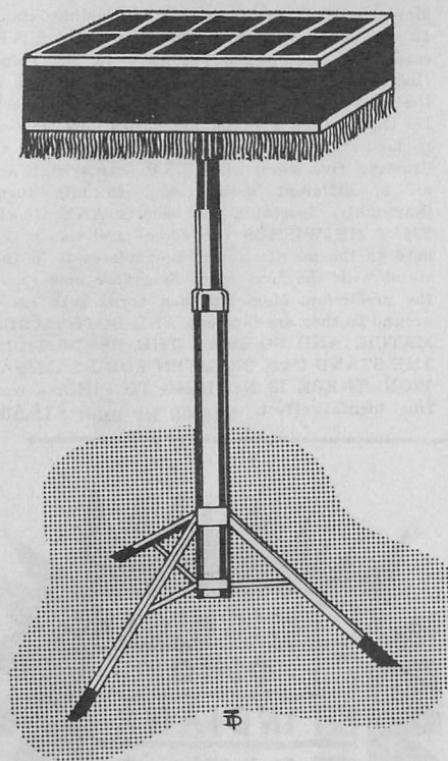

Magician shows a decorated metal tube with two solid metal spikes running through it. The spikes are removed, and can even be passed out for examination. The magician then places an airship type balloon into the tube and inflates it fully, so that it completely fills the tube and extends from both ends of the tube.

Now — the big spikes are thrust right through the tube from side to side, but the balloon remains intact, may then be allowed to deflate. The tube is now lifted and shown to the spectators, allowing them to look right through it with the spikes still in the tube running from side to side.

A really impossible enigma! Complete with tube, spikes, a supply of ordinary balloons, routine.

DOUBLE DYNAMITE

Roydon's MENTAL MIRACLE

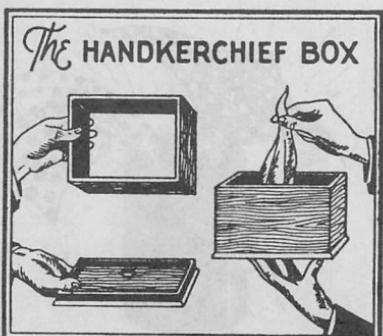

The method used in this effect is so clever that it is indeed a miracle. Magician displays a thin black board about 10" x 10" square, with the name of five states printed on it. Board is plainly shown on both sides. Spectator is asked to think of one of the states and magician marks an X after the state the spectator mentally selected.

Spectator then names the state, and immediately performer turns the board around and reveals that he has correctly divined the state. But wait—it is immediately repeated with another spectator, and then again if you wish.

RICE'S TRIPLE KNOT ESCAPE

This marvelous effect won Mystini first prize at an I. B. M. convention and has been performed with considerable success by the Great Dante!

Briefly, two ropes and three silks are passed for examination. The ropes are tied around one of the silks, then the remaining two silks are tied around the ropes. With everything securely tied, two spectators hold the ends of the ropes while the performer removes the silks in a flash from the ropes!! And the original knots remain in the silks!!

This effect is 100% mechanical and can be repeated over and over again without preparation. We consider this one of our finest effects and recommend it without hesitation.

RICE'S MIS-MADE FLAG

A sucker effect with silk that is ever-popular. Performer forms a paper cylinder and pushes three 12" silks (red, white, blue) into same. However, he accidentally (?) drops the blue one on the floor, unnoticed by the performer. The paper tube is tapped and a U. S. Flag emerges from the other end, but it has the blue field missing. Not to be defeated, performer suddenly "finds" the blue silk on the floor, replaces it along with the mis-made flag into the tube and ties again. This time, the flag emerges from the other end in perfect condition with all colors intact!

20TH CENTURY SILKS

A beautiful effect with silks that never fails to win applause. Colorful silks are a thing of beauty and contribute greatly to any act, whether in the parlor at home or on the stage. This fine effect is suitable to work just anywhere—within five feet of the spectators if desired.

Performer shows two silks which he ties together at the corners. These may then be placed on the table, or if desired, simply draped around the shoulders. A third silk of a different color is then introduced, which the performer causes to vanish. Immediately, he picks up the two silks that are tied together and the audience is amazed to see that the vanished silk is now tied in between!

BLEND-O

Blend-O has long been a favorite with magicians for use either in a silk act, or by itself. As it can be worked at any time during the act, as an opening effect or a "closer," it can be used in any type of act.

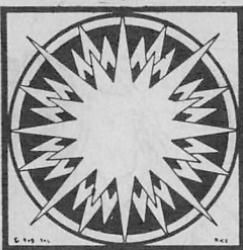

Performer exhibits three 18" silks of different colors which he ties together at their corners. Instantly, in full view of the audience, the three silk handkerchiefs vanish, leaving in their place a large beautiful vari-colored silk containing the colors of the three vanished silk, which is shown on both sides to prove it is without preparation. The effect is so startling and the trick performed so quickly that it leaves the audience gasping.

EXPERT CARD TECHNIQUE

By Hugard and Braue

CLOSE-UP TABLE MAGIC OF THE TOP FLIGHT CARD MEN

This exclusive card book brings Erdnase's famous book up to date. Two years in preparation, it is an inventory of the best work of these outstanding card men: Allerton, Braue, Annemann, Green, Hugard, Kaufman, Lloyd, Miller, McMillen, Merlin, P. Rosini, Vernon, Zingone.

Expert Card Technique is the finest text book, teaching in concise language, the best methods which must be learned if one is to excel as a card entertainer. Each of the sleights and tricks is illustrated from actual poses of each move and shows clearly the exact position of the fingers and hands in manipulating the cards. Many new methods known only to the inner circle of card experts, including: Secret Lifts, False Deals, Side Slips, Passes, Palming, False Cuts, False Shuffles, Crimps, Changes, Peeks, Reverses, Jogs.

A special feature is the complete compendium of shakedown sleights employed by gamblers. Erdnase covered this field in his famous book, but it has never been brought up to date and simplified, as it has now been done in this book.

ROYAL ROAD TO CARD MAGIC

Hugard and Braue

Only Jean Hugard is capable of discerning the needs of the student of card magic so precisely and of translating them into simple terms so easily understood. Royal Road to Card Magic is elementary to the extent that it assumes the reader wants to learn the basic principles and then advance naturally step by step to more difficult effects. On the other hand, it is so well written, that even the experienced card man will find much material included that will be to his advantage to review.

The author covers each basic sleight separately and illustrates by explaining an effect using that particular move. As the chapters unfold, other effects are explained, all based on preceding explanations. In this way the reader progresses by degrees to a thorough knowledge of the subject. The Tarbell Course In Magic

By DR. HARLAN TARBELL

Dr. Tarbell occupies a unique position in the magical world—a highly successful professional performer for many years, an inventor of some of the greatest tricks known to the profession, he has personally trained many magicians and routined their acts. Many well-known performers have contributed their latest and most closely guarded effects to this Course as a tribute to Harlan Tarbell, and a gracious acknowledgement of his genius and untiring efforts on behalf of the magic fraternity. Dozens of today's performers owe their place in magic to Harlan Tarbell, and are proud to proclaim that fact.

It is fortunate that Dr. Tarbell also possesses that rare faculty of being able to draw the pictures necessary to clarify the text, thus combining his extensive knowledge of magic with his skill as an artist, the result being equal to PERSONAL INSTRUCTION. For in other books of equal size you will not find so many illustrations showing each and every move, step by step, in explanation of the tricks and effects described.

25 RISING CARD TRICKS

by U.F. Grant

One of the most popular concepts in magic. The rising cards have been used as a finish for a series of card tricks, or as an individual trick, by some of the most famous names in magic. They are adaptable to stage, club show, living room or bar.

Here you have 25 different ways to go to arrange this dramatic trick. Methods range from mechanical devices which call for a bit of building and engineering on your part - all the way down to simple methods you can rig up in a few minutes. No matter which means you select to have your selected cards rise from the deck, we know you will have a trick with guaranteed applause! And usually at very little expense.

Illustrations and good explanations will get you well started in this interesting field. Material based on effects originally written by U.F. Grant and enlarged by various effects from other magicians. $ 2.00

MY BEST

(J. G. THOMPSON, JR.)

The pages of this book contain the best tricks from the best brains in magic—not just any effects, but the best and most jealously guarded originations of over one hundred magicians whose names constitute a "Who's Who Among the Inventors of Magic." A compilation consisting of 193 tricks in all branches of magic, contributed by 115 well known artists, professionals, as well as many clever amateurs. 380 pages, well illustrated, cloth binding. Price $10.00

PERSONAL SECRETS
Harry Lorayne

There was such an overwhelming response to Harry Lorayne's great book, Close-up Card Magic, that he was persuaded to part with some more of his "real good stuff" — his Personal Secrets. Now, in one evening, you can learn card routines that have taken Harry Lorayne years to put together.

Do any of the effects from Personal Secrets and you must be considered "the best" in your group. And Harry Lorayne continues to write as if he's teaching you personally, describing each routine in complete detail. You will agree that any one of the effects in this book is worth many times the price of the book.
